

AGU's Online Support Program for the Youth

A support program for young people with young people... The most important thing in this difficult period is to stay together and enjoy this period of staying home...

However, since we cannot be physically together, we have decided to gather online.

Why not share our experiences and learn from each other ?

If you want to join us, feel free to fill out the form and be on time!

In the meantime, if you want to share something, just contact the team
